The Choice Meter · Teacher Page

Print the 3 student sheets landscape, one-sided, in color. Sheets 1–2 are the accordion; sheet 3 is the cards (one cutter pass: 3 cuts each way).

Put it together (about 5 minutes)

1. Lay sheet 1 and sheet 2 face up, side by side. Put tape on the back where they meet. The panels go cover, can, may, don't have to, should, have to, must, must not.
2. Fold on every dashed line, zigzag (in, out, in, out). It stands up like a fence.
3. Cut out the 16 cards. Write a name or initials on the back.

Games

1. Sort it. Stand the book up. Put each card in front of a panel and say the sentence: You must wear a seatbelt. Pick a subject for each card: I, you, she...
2. Argue it. Partners compare. Different panel? Explain why. Some cards fit two panels (see the right column), and that's good talk.
3. Blank cards. Each student writes a rule from their own life: work, home, the clinic, their country. The partner sorts it.
4. True or false? Use the "Build an example" box on each panel. Write one true sentence and one false sentence about you. Your partner guesses: I have to wear a uniform. False!

Card answers

#	Card	Best panel	Also OK
1	wear a seatbelt in the car	must	have to
2	smoke in the hospital	must not / can't
3	pay rent on the 1st of the month	have to	must
4	see a doctor if your cough doesn't stop	should
5	eat a lot of sugar	shouldn't
6	work on Sunday (Your job is Monday–Friday.)	don't have to
7	bring lunch (Lunch is free at work today.)	don't have to
8	ask the teacher: leave class early	May I...?	Can I...?
9	speak two languages	can
10	wear a uniform at work	have to	must
11	have a dog (The lease says: No pets.)	can't / must not
12	show your ID at the bank	have to	must
13	drink more water	should
14	share your PIN with a stranger	must not / shouldn't

Talk point: card 14 (share your PIN) is must not as a bank rule and shouldn't as advice. Both are fine. don't have to is wrong, and that is the big mix-up to watch for.